Child Care Fee Subsidies in the Rainy River District:

If you or someone you know requires financial assistance to cover the cost of Licensed Child Care – help may be available! Child Care Fee Subsidy assists those families who require Child Care while they are involved in work, school, and training programs or have a child with special care needs.

What is Fee Subsidy?

Fee Subsidy is financial support for those who qualify to assist with paying child care fees in a licensed setting. You may qualify for full or partial subsidy. The net income from the Notice of Assessment or the Canada Child Tax Benefit is used to determine the level of subsidy. The following is a sample of what the Daily Parent Fee would be based on the level of income identified:

Under $20,000	$0.00
$25,000	$1.92
$30,000	$3.83
$35,000	$5.75
$40,000	$7.66

Ontario Works Update

If you have a child under age 18, your social assistance has changed, due to the new monthly Ontario Child Benefit payments.

If you have a child under age 18, you will see the following changes in your social assistance payment:

- You no longer receive a “basic needs” amount for your child;
- The National Child Benefit Supplement is no longer being deducted; and
- You will no longer receive the Back-to-School and Winter Clothing Allowances.

What do these changes mean?

These changes mean that:

- You may receive less from social assistance; but
- Your new monthly Ontario Child Benefit payment and your full National Child Benefit Supplement payment will make up the difference over the year. You will continue to receive other help for your children through social assistance (such as shelter allowance and health benefits).

The monthly amounts for Temporary Care Assistance have not changed.

Some families may see a new Transition Child Benefit...

Transition Child Benefit

Some families may see a new “Transition Child Benefit” on their social assistance payment stub. This is a benefit for families on social assistance that are not receiving the Ontario Child Benefit or are receiving less than the maximum amount of the Ontario Child Benefit.

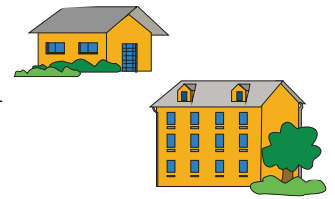

You do not need to apply for the Transition Child Benefit. If you are eligible, your local office will add it to your social assistance payment. Your eligibility for the Transition Child Benefit is based on the information you give to your local office to calculate your social assistance payment. Also, to receive the Transition Child Benefit you must be trying or have tried to get the Ontario Child Benefit and the National Child Benefit Supplement. If you are receiving the Transition Child Benefit while you are waiting for your Ontario Child Benefit to start, it’s important to know:

- When you get your first monthly Ontario Child Benefit payment, you may also receive a lump-sum Ontario Child Benefit and National Child Benefit Supplement payment to cover the months that you waited for your Ontario Child Benefit to start.
- Because you received the Transition Child Benefit for the same months you waited for the Ontario Child Benefit, your next social assistance payment will be reduced.

Housing Update

The 2008 Provincial Budget announced $100m in capital repair funding for social housing units. This funding is a one-time payment to all 47 Service Managers. The $100 million was allocated on the basis of each Service Managers current share of the social housing stock. On June 26, 2008, the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing advised that a transfer of $248, 329.00 has been made to the Rainy River District Social Services Administration Board. The purpose of the funds is for urgent social housing capital repairs including energy efficiency improvements. Funds will be distributed to those sites that are eligible under certain criteria and eligibility such as health and safety.

We also need to welcome our newest junior paramedics. Ryan & (Laurie) Mosely, received their bundle of joy on May 5th, welcome to Arianna, 8 lbs plus a bit, according to Grandpa Jim. On June 9th, Kristi & (Trevor) McQuay greeted their newest addition, Samuel, weighing in at 8 lbs 10 1/2 oz. Not far behind, on June 25th, Jennifer & (Chris) Olson welcomed, Emily, weighting 7 lbs, 4 oz, Congratulations to all the families. Keep posted, we are expecting a couple more additions in the near future.

Installation of the mounts for the laptops has been completed in the ambulances. A few program adjustments will be completed shortly allowing our Power Users, to start testing the system.
